Description

This course will focus on developing the team, creating the relationship with our patients, and then providing them with many different services to increase the value our patients place on our care. We will delve into the many distinct aspects of dentistry from our 'simple' direct restorations and steps we can take to create predictability in our direct restorative work, to moving teeth, replacing teeth, and how to bring it all together.

Objectives

- Understand how to create a positive working environment.
- How to welcome your patients and involve them in their care.
- How to add value to your hygiene services that benefit both patient and team.
- Understand the advantages of using bioactive restorative materials.
- Understand the techniques to deliver predictable direct restorations.
- Compare the techniques of tissue management using soft tissue-lasers or hemostatic agents.
- Evaluate the new thoughts on endodontic irrigation and obturation to improve your success.
- Learn the principles of cosmetic tooth movement.
- Understand how to bond zirconia restorations.
- Understand the importance of functional dentistry and how to evaluate it.
- Show attendees how to integrate all the information to move their practices forward.

Dr. Michael Miyasaki has been involved in sharing with his colleagues for over 33 years having taught programs on the topics of lasers, aesthetics, implants, endodontics, occlusion, tooth movement and restorative dentistry across the globe. He works in Sacramento, California, where he started 36 years ago, and today is focused on family dentistry. He has also been involved in the dental industry as an executive, and product developer for over 25 years. This all gives him a unique perspective on the profession. His passion is sharing and helping improve the lives of his colleagues and their trusting patients.
